

Instructions for Setting Up Cursor for the Study

Please follow the steps below to ensure you have the correct version of Cursor and the required API access for this study.

For Participants Who Are New to Cursor

1. Download Cursor

If you have never used Cursor before, please begin by going to <https://cursor.com> and downloading the application for your operating system. After the download is complete, install Cursor and create your account. Once your account is set up, Cursor will activate a free one-week Pro trial, which you should use during the first part of the study.

2. Upgrade to Cursor Pro after the trial ends

When your free Pro trial expires after seven days, you will need to upgrade to Cursor Pro to continue participating. To do this, open Cursor and navigate to Settings → Billing, then select Upgrade to Cursor Pro and complete the purchase process. We will reimburse you for the full cost of this upgrade, so please make sure to save your receipt.

3. Submit reimbursement requests

Once you have your receipt, please submit it using the reimbursement form here. We will issue your reimbursement as a virtual VISA gift card through Tremendous. If you have any trouble locating or saving your receipt, please contact us and we will assist you.

For Participants Who Already Have Cursor

If you already have an active Cursor Pro subscription, you may continue using it as usual. We will provide you with an Anthropic API key, which includes a total of $20 in credits for use during the study. If you choose to use the study-provided key, please follow the setup instructions below.

1. Open the Settings panel in Cursor.

2. Navigate to the Models section and scroll down to API Keys.
3. Add your Anthropic API key and enable it.
